To the Public.

THE SENTINEL, having double the circulation IN THE CITY, and more than treble OUT OF IT, of any other paper here, renders it far the cheapest and most desirable medium in Milwaukee for all classes of Advertisements.

EVERY BUSINESS MAN who consults his own interest, will avail himself of the columns of THE DAILY SENTINEL,—especially when he can do so at the same prices charged by other papers, and secure more than double the advantage of circulation.

This is no boast, but EVERY WORD TRUE.

Senator Seward in Wisconsin.

We are authorized to state that Senator SEWARD will address the Republicans of Wisconsin, at Madison, on Tuesday, the eleventh of September, instead of Saturday, the 8th, as first announced. We entertain the hope that Gov. SEWARD will address the Republicans of Milwaukee, on his way to Madison, probably on the evening of the 8th.

Something Rotten in Denmark.

The whereabouts of politicians in the present campaign is one of the most interesting subjects of inquiry, and our readers will accordingly find the following paragraph from a Wilmington correspondent of The Baltimore Patriot, as instructive as it is unquestionably amusing. The writer is describing a Republican procession at Wilmington:

"While standing in a group of gentlemen who had been surveying the Lincoln procession, I heard a German say in rather loud tones; "Vell, dey wouldn't show demselves in dat way in Baltimore, dese Bublicans!" "Why wouldn't they!" demanded, rather angrily, a still louder and more decided voice. "Where did you learn that American citizens would not be permitted in Baltimore to express their political opinions, freely and without molestation?" "I does dink so—dat's all," replied the German, in a more subdued tone. "Let me tell you, Sir, I'm a Baltimorean, and though a Republican Convention was broken up in that city, no such scene will ever occur there again. Lincoln men will have processions in that city, just like this one, and hold public meetings; and I will speak at them, too, and woe unto the men who shall attempt to disturb me or them!"

You may imagine a speech like this to a hundred or more eager listeners created no little astonishment. The imprudent German was gone, when I edged my way into the crowd to see who the speaker was, and guess my astonishment at recognizing my old friend, Maj McPhail, whose political whereabouts was rather a poser to me, for being an old American myself, and for Bell and Everett, I took it for granted that the old war-horse of Americanism was with us. I can tell you, Maj. Patriot, your cause in Maryland has lost a host in losing such a supporter as Maj. McPhail. It seems as if the very devil was at work in driving off from us such men as Scroggs, McPhail, Yarnum, Sanderson, Flanegan, Ullman, Dick Thompson, and Humphrey Marshall.—Something's rotten in Denmark, that's certain."

The Recent Rail Road Convention—New Arrangements—Heads to come Off, &c.

At a convention of the five Atlantic trunk roads, held at Saratoga, July 28th, 1860, among other arrangements, mutually entered into, we find the following in relation to

PASSES.

No free passes shall be issued to the employees of other roads, unless the request for such pass is made by the President or Superintendent of the road by which the applicant is employed.

Annual passes shall be limited to the list of officers, furnished by the President or Superintendent of each Road to the connecting roads. No pass shall be issued to any person with the intention directly or indirectly, of influencing the route of freight or travel, or to editors or reporters of newspapers, except to editors who reside on the line of the road, and to them trip-passes only will be granted, and at the discretion of the respective companies. No double or family passes will be issued under any circumstances.

UNION OFFICES.

With a view of reducing expenses it has also been suggested to the different lines owning or controlling ticket offices, to abandon all such offices and arrangements, and unite, in all the larger cities, in one union ticket office, where all lines shall be impartially represented.

It is also agreed that after the first of October the several lines will not employ runners, or agents of any description, or retain those now in their service, for the purpose of soliciting passengers. Freight agents at the West are to be discontinued.

The roads represented at the Convention are: Grand Trunk, New York Central, New York & Erie, Pennsylvania Central, and Baltimore & Ohio.

"OF WHOM TEN THOUSAND ARE WIDOWS."—The Rev'd Mr. THOMPSON, American missionary in Syria, in a letter to a friend in England, estimates the number of the fugitives now under the protection of ABD EL KADER and the French consul at Damascus, and in flight to Beyrout, at seventy-five thousand, "of whom more than ten thousand are widows!"

Could a more forcible appeal be made to human sympathies to the American heart? Thank God, the work of slaughter is about to be stayed. Five Christian powers, holding in abeyance political jealousies of long standing and great force, have resolved that massacres such as these, on whatever soil perpetrated, shall be arrested, and the promoters of them shall be punished. They have virtually said that the government that will not or cannot prevent such wholesale murder as this—that feeds rather than appeases the mad malignity of a portion of its subjects by slaughtered hecatombs of another class—whatever it may be technically—is practically not sovereign but slave, and that humanity demands that for a time the sceptre of sovereignty in its territory shall be put in commission. And the whole civilized world will applaud the decision, a large share of the applause being, to all appearance, due to Napoleon III.

A NEW ORGANIZATION has just been perfected at Fox Lake, by several of the best business men and capitalists of the place, and a partnership formed, under the name of the "American Leather Company." The names of the gentlemen engaged in the enterprise are JOHN W. DAVIS, GEORGE JESS, WM E SMITH, THOMAS G. EGGLESTON and C. L. ROBINSON. The latter named gentleman claims to have discovered a new process of tanning, by which leather can be made softer, more pliable, more impervious to water, stronger and more durable than leather tanned in any other way. He also claims that all this can be done in from 20 to 90 days, according to the kind of leather to be tanned.

EATING DIRT.—The Inquirer is the name of a paper in Milwaukee. The Douglasites lately nominated that old line silver gray whig Arnold for Congress, and he made a speech saying he had not changed his politics, and denounced the Breckinridge party in the roundest terms. The Inquirer hoists his name as its candidate, and the News has no objections to his politics. Such a mess is worse than "biled owl."—Albany (Wis.) Times.

Personal.

THOS. PRIESTLY, JOHN VAN COLES, MARK TERRILL and JOHN P. MOORE, all Wisconsin men, have returned from Pike's Peak, wiser if not happier than when they left.

HON. JOHN F. POTTER addressed the Republican Club at Elkhorn, by invitation, on Tuesday evening last. He was greeted in a most enthusiastic manner, and his speech was received with most unbounded applause.

MISS BURDETT COUTTS is one of the greatest "sensation" women in England.—CHAS. DICKENS first contributed to her notoriety by dedicating one of his novels to her. She returned the compliment by very materially contributing to the financial success in the life of Mr. DICKENS, Jr. She next created quite a furore in the fashionable circles of London by introducing into them a Liverpool street cripple, who used to perambulate sidewalks, playing an accordeon, in a small car drawn by goats. She now adds to her celebrity by having offered a splendid premium to the best rifle shooters in England.

JOHN B. GOUGH was announced to leave Liverpool for this country on the 11th inst.

MRS. ANNA CARA RICHIE sails for Europe on the 25th, to pass the coming winter in Paris.

MR. WASHBURNE, of California, brother of the "three WASHBURN'S" in Congress, is not on the DOUGLAS, as has been reported, but on the LINCOLN electoral ticket.

PARODI is in Portland, Me., delighting the people with her vocalization.

IT IS SAID that the Empress EUGENIE is about to present the Emperor with a new ba—token of conjugal love.

A. H. DAVENPORT, the well known and popular comedian, met with a severe accident, lately, in New York, by being thrown from a vehicle. He will be confined to his bed for several weeks.

HERE is a personal item from a correspondent at the Pike's Peak gold mines:—A former banker from Leavenworth is now in the mines, engaged in selling pies! He was a deacon in one of the Presbyterian churches in Eastern Kansas; here, he retails whiskey on Sunday. Last year, on the Republican Route, I encountered an ex-Cincinnati lawyer, and an actress from the New York Bowery Theatre, united in bonds matrimonial, and engaged in keeping a stage station on the Great Plains, four hundred miles from civilization.

ELD. L. LAKE, one of the first settlers of Wisconsin, a veteran clergyman, died at his residence in Walworth, Walworth county on Friday last. Mr. LAKE was universally known to the people of that section, as a man of prominent moral and social position, and his death will be widely regretted.

AN ITEM FOR SMOKERS.—Life Illustrated contains the following in relation to the statement that tin foil used from wrapping tobacco has dangerous qualities:

"There is more poison in one package of tobacco than in the tin-foil that surrounds a hundred. If anybody doubts this, let them hold a sheet of white paper over the smoke that curls up from the burning tobacco, and after a pipeful or a cigar has been consumed scrape the condensed smoke from the paper and put a very small amount on the tongue of a cat, and they will see her die of 'strokes of paralysis,' in 15 minutes."

The above paragraph is travelling the rounds of the press, and is about as truthful as most of the scientific items concocted in the brains of squib writers. There is not enough of the essential oil of tobacco smoke to kill a mouse. The volatile portion of the weed—the nicotine is absorbed by the pipe or is dissipated into air.

POST OFFICES IN THE WEST.—During the week ending August 18th, the following Post Offices were established or discontinued in the West:

Stevenstown	La Crosse	Wisconsin
Ronalea	Mc Leod	Minnesota
Cedarville	Washington	Iowa

DISCONTINUED.

HARVEST HOME.—There will be a grand harvest home merry-making at Fort Atkinson, on Wednesday next. Speeches, singing, music by the band, dancing, eating, and all the other concomitants of a "munificent time."

NEARLY a thousand men are now employed at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. They have also a Zouave corps in active drill.

IT IS hardly credible that so great firmness against such blandishments could be shown by a policeman, but the London correspondent of a provincial paper narrates the following anecdote, and says that it is true: It appears that Mrs. Herbert, the wife of the Minister of War, desired to attend the late review of the volunteers in Hyde Park, and had no ticket, she had been told by the Duke of Cambridge that no ticket would be required from her; she smiled on the man with the leather stock and the oil cloth hat; she referred him to the Queen, and to a large and influential circle of friends; she called in foreign aid, and the Colonel of one of the regiments expostulated with policeman X; more than this, a General officer attempted to browbeat him. But it was all in vain. The distinct order was to admit no one to the Park without a ticket. The order was obeyed, and the wife of the War Minister was forced to return homeward.

A SAD ACCIDENT.—Charles K. Bennet, aged thirteen years, a son of Mr. O. K. Bennett of this city, was drowned in the river, yesterday afternoon. The circumstances, as we have learned them, are as follows:—A number of pine logs had been lodged upon the sand bars below the dam, and several boys, among whom was the deceased, were amusing themselves by pushing these logs about in the water. While doing so Charles slipped into a deep place in the river just above the Excelsior Mill. A companion attempted to save him, but was unsuccessful, and it was not until some ten or fifteen minutes had elapsed that the body was recovered. Although physicians and friends to bring him to life, it was without success. This is peculiarly a mournful event, as Charles was an only and idolized son, and was a lad of remarkable promise.—Janesville Gazette, 24th.

SINGULARLY ACTIVE TENDENCY TO HEMORRHAGE.—Henry Kelly, a lad of 11 years, expired last Friday at the residence of his parents on Grand Avenue, near the St Charles road. From his infancy he was subject to severe hemorrhage, from injuries usually regarded as trivial. On one occasion, having fallen and cut his lip slightly, the wound bled so profusely that his life was with difficulty saved. At another time a slight cut in his head bled to such a degree that convulsions ensued and his life was temporarily despaired of. On Friday, while suffering an attack of chills, he suddenly began bleeding from the nose, and all efforts to stop the hemorrhage proved unavailing. The poor lad soon lapsed into convulsions that shortly terminated his life. His father is a gardener who has recently removed from Pennsylvania to this city.—St. Louis paper.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY.—On Monday last the barn of Mr. Armstrong at Gillespie, near Alton, was set on fire and burned to the ground. The deed is supposed to have been committed by an old man named Stephen Van Dorn, while laboring under an attack of delirium tremens, as he was seen coming out of the barn a few minutes before the fire was discovered, and was found shortly afterwards on the prairie a little north of the town with his throat cut and his body otherwise mangled.

To complete the chapter, during the excitement of the fire, Mrs. Nelson, a lady living near by, became so intensely agitated and alarmed as actually to die with fright.—Chicago Press & Tribune.

Our Special Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.

THE NEWS FROM NEW YORK.

It is extremely gratifying, as a guarantee that the State will all be right in November. The dissensions, strife and heart-burnings which the Herald and other Anti-Republican organs so confidently predicted, were not manifested, but on the contrary, the utmost unanimity of sentiment and enthusiastic devotion in the cause prevailed. The party will present a bold, united and determined front, and will give over 300,000 votes to Lincoln when the great struggle comes.

LINCOLN IN MARYLAND.

I learn that in Maryland, and in Baltimore City particularly, the Lincoln feeling is manifesting itself in a way that is astonishing all parties. Not less than two thousand Germans in Baltimore will give Lincoln their suffrages, and more than that number of Americans, disgusted with the Douglas-Bell coalition, will do the same thing. The Bellites are terribly alarmed at the large defections from their ranks since the recent developments, which are serious enough to affect their success in a State in which they felt entirely secure.

THE COLUMBUS POST OFFICE.

It is understood that Mr Dawson, of Columbus, has been influenced by the Douglas men of his locality to decline the proffered Postmastership. The Administration is in no way pleased thereat.

THE GULF SQUADRON.

The indications are that a strong naval force is to be concentrated at some point in the Gulf. It is said that the Susquehanna, which was destined for the Mediterranean, will sail from New York to-day for the Gulf, and that the Powhattan at Philadelphia will soon follow.

In connection with this movement it is also rumored that special orders have been dispatched to the Sabine at Aspinwall, and to the St. Louis, daily expected at Pensacola. It is variously conjectured that these movements have for their object either the suppression of Walker's expedition or the protection of American interests in the Gulf of Mexico. More likely the latter.

RETURNED.

Postmaster General Holt has returned from Kentucky, and resumed his duties.

TERRIBLE STORM IN KINGSTON, WIS.—IMMENSE DAMAGE TO THE CROPS.—The heavy storm which visited this place yesterday afternoon swept through the town of Kingston, next south of this, comprising the north part of Sauk Prairie, with fearful violence, doing immense damage to crops of all kinds. An eye witness, Mr. Wm. Harrington, a resident of that town, gives us the following particulars, just as we go to press:

The storm commenced about two o'clock with a violent blow from the west, which continued for some time, after which came a lull, and soon after another blow of equal intensity from the east. Such was its violence that grain stacks were lifted up almost bodily, and the bundles scattered all around in some instances forty rods from their original position. Hail fell to the depth of two inches, and the stones were of incredible size, breaking, of course, every pane of glass in the region Mr. H.'s brother-in-law, residing a mile south of him, picked up two which were larger than a large hen's egg. They fell with such force as often to penetrate solid pumpkins, and to cut off the corn, even the stoutest stalks, as smoothly as if done by a knife. Fields of corn may be seen so smoothly cut down as to show every pumpkin on the ground. Immense quantities of rain fell, which have thoroughly soaked the scattered grain.

The storm, which may almost be ranked among the tornadoes of the season, seemed to travel from west to east, taking a strip about three miles in width, devastating every object less firm than a house. How far it extended we have as yet no means of knowing. We do not hear of any one being injured bodily, but scores of farmers have lost much of their anticipated reward for the labors of the past season.—Baraboo Republic 23d.

THE BEQUESTS OF THE LATE HON. JONATHAN PHILLIPS.—The Hon. Jonathan Phillips left property to the amount of $800,000. The Boston Transcript says his will is dated September 30, 1846, and the codicil September 28, 1849. By these two instruments the following public bequests are made: To the city of Boston, to procure and maintain a Public Library, $20,000; to the city of Boston, to adorn and embellish streets and public places, $20,000; to Harvard College, $20,000; Boston Society of Natural History, $10,000; Boston Marine Society, $10,000; Massachusetts Medical Society, $10,000; Massachusetts General Hospital, $10,000; Amherst College, $5,000; Williams College, $5,000; Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary, $5,000; Boston Dispensary, 5,000; Farm School, $5,000; Massachusetts Congregational Charitable Society, $5,000; town of Phillipston, Mass., for a Town Library, a fund of $5,000. Total, $135,000.

It will be observed that this will is dated before the Boston Public Library was established, and it will be remembered that Mr. Phillips presented $10,000 to the institution in May, 1858, the interest of which is to be used exclusively for the purchase of books. These two donations place Mr. Phillips second on the list of the benefactors of the Library.

TOADS LIVING WHEN SHUT IN PLASTER FOR YEARS.—"M. Seguin," says the Medical Times and Gazette, "wishing to ascertain what amount of truth there is in the marvellous tales told of pharaohians being found living within the substance of stones, has undertaken some experiments upon the matter. He inclosed some toads very firmly in plaster, and left them for years in the middle of these blocks of factitious stone.—At various intervals he has broken some of these blocks, and has found a certain number of the toads alive. One of the animals had remained thus deprived of air during ten years, another twelve, and a third fifteen years. Two still continued inclosed, and as M. Seguin is very old, and fears that these two blocks may be lost to the purposes of science, he offers them to the Academy of Sciences, in order that it may hereafter test the truth of the phenomenon. M. Flourens announces on the part of the Academy its willingness to accept them, intending, after a verification of the dates of sequestration, to have the plaster broken in presence of a commission ad hoc."

THE London Star says the comparative influence of the Times is much less now than before the period of the cheap dailies. In 1855 the whole circulation of the daily press of the United Kingdom amounted to about 70,000, of which the Times claimed 50,000, and the rest was divided among its rivals in London, Dublin and Edinburgh. The Times had then five-sevenths of the whole circulation of the country. In 1860, the whole circulation of the diurnal press in the United Kingdom is about 330,000, of which the Times still claims 50,000, or not one-sixth of the whole. The rest of the circulation is composed, with the exception of perhaps 20,000 of the high-priced journals, of the penny daily press of London, Manchester, Liverpool, Glasgow, Birmingham, &c., which is supposed to amount to 260,000 daily. The Star thinks that the Times now is considerably less than 50,000.

VIOLENT STORM.—We hear that the rain storm on Wednesday last, which was tolerably severe here, was still more terrific a few miles North of us in the town of Hustisford. The wind blew a fearful gale, and together with the rain and hail which came down in torrents, did considerable damage. Two barns belonging to Richard German, were taken off their foundations, completely. Another belonging to Frank Rider was entirely demolished, and two horses which were in it at the time were killed. Corn fields were literally devastated and stacks of grain were leveled to the ground, in many instances. We have not been able to gather full particulars as to the extent of the damage, but fear that it has been immense. The storm undoubtedly extended over a large section of country.—Watertown Republican.

AT A MEETING of the N. Y. Historical Society, held last Tuesday evening, Dr. Bacon stated as a singular fact, worthy of attention, that Americans never groan when wounded in battle. Major Gen. Gaines had told him this, and said that he had heard so from Gen. Stark and other Generals of the Revolution. They always knew when there were screams and groans after a volley, that the British had the worst of it. He desired to have this put in print; he thought the same power of enduring pain without any external manifestation, which had existed in the aborigines, had descended to their successors in the country. It seemed to be the result of the climate. It existed in all Americans, even if they were Irishmen and migrated to this country when they were but two years old.

ROBBERY OF MADAME ANNA BISHOP'S WARDROBE AT THE NEWHALL.—On Friday night, between seven and eight o'clock, Madame ANNA BISHOP'S room, at the Newhall, (No. 222) was entered while the lady was at the concert, and a large amount of her jewelry taken from her trunk. The loss is about $300, though to the owner the property is worth incalculably more, the articles being souvenirs received in different parts of the world from admirers and friends. One Bracelet, of most curious workmanship, carved from a piece of the tomb of Romeo and Juliet, was alone of great value. Another, a brooch, from Australia, cost forty guineas. The room was entered by means of a false key, and the articles taken from the trunk. Nothing else was disturbed, articles of dress, expensive lace, &c., were left as before.

The Chief of the Police was immediately notified of the robbery, but though every exertion was made, no clue to the author of the outrage had been obtained up to Saturday evening.

"ALL FOR THE BEST."—Dr. JOHNSON used to say that a habit of looking at the best side of every event, is better than a thousand pounds a year. Bishop HALL quaintly remarks, "for every bad there might have been worse; and when a man breaks his leg; let him be thankful that it was not his neck." When FENELON'S library was on fire, "God be praised," he exclaimed, "that it is not the dwelling of some poor man!" This is the true spirit of submission—one of the most beautiful traits that can possess the human heart. Resolve to see this world on its sunny side, and you have almost half won the battle of life on the outset.

MADAME ANNA BISHOP'S CONCERT, on Friday evening, was not very well attended. It was nevertheless a most brilliant musical festival. Madame BISHOP executed the Cavatina from Ernani with a power and feeling rarely excelled. RUDOLPHSEN is a capital baritone, and sung that sweet aria from MARITANI—"In Happy Moments," with a grace and vocal modulation that pleased all.

The concerts have been justly appreciated by the few who enjoy a high order of music, and Madame BISHOP has increased the number of her admirers by the visit.

DIVISION OF THE WIDE-AWAKES.—It is proposed to divide the Wide-Awake Company into four or more companies and to organize a company in each Ward. It is stated that by this means the spirit of proper rivalry will render them more zealous, and at the same time a greater number will be induced to join.

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE FIFTH WARD.—WM. AXTELL is laying the foundation of a fine three story brick block, on the northwest corner of South Water and Ferry streets, running back to the river. It will be 130 feet deep on Ferry street and 42 feet on South Water.

EXCURSION TO CHICAGO.—The Union Guards, Capt. BARRY, are making arrangements for an excursion to Chicago in September. They are to charter a boat and arrive in the Garden City about the same time that DOUGLAS does.

MADAME ANNA BISHOP complains bitterly to us of the acoustic arrangements of the Academy of Music. She thinks that in this respect it is not an exact model of its Philadelphia namesake.

THE Free Concert, on Saturday night, at JOHN SCHAUS' Saloon, was well attended. The sound of music and lager gurgling like a waterfall over countless palates was the heighth of novelty to amateurs.

CONCERT THIS EVENING.—The Concert of Fife Major ROBINSON will come off this evening, at the Academy of Music.

Fife Major Robinson.

We again bespeak the attention of the public to the concert of a very worthy man and extraordinary performer, Major Robinson. We suppose that our readers know that this gentleman accompanied the American army during the conquest of Mexico, and that he is not a mere holiday soldier, but a veteran who has sounded the inspiriting charge in many a desperate battle. No one has done more for the enlivenment of our city through the late dull times, than the Major with the crystal tones of his wonderful fife, and we are glad to have an opportunity of hearing him again, when the welkin will ring with the harmonious accompaniment of Mr. Nevins, who is a drummer, in his marches, charges, reveilles, retreats and tattoos. He is perhaps the only man who can vie with ROBINSON in the United States. Mr. CHAS. C. DICKINSON, one of the greatest Harpists living, has kindly volunteered to play a Harp Solo. The American Cornet Band is engaged for the occasion, and we feel pretty certain that the attendance this evening, both of civic and military amateurs, will be unusually great.

A PICNIC FOR EVERYBODY.—The Band of Hope, of this city, have got out the plans for a grand sociable excursion and picnic for young and old, to come off on the 30th inst. The site for the affair is at the Junction, on the line of the Milwaukee & Watertown Railroad—a splendid location, distant about 13 miles. The excursionists will be accompanied there by several bands of music, who will be on the grounds during the day, and will return with them; and nothing will be left undone that can in any way add to the pleasure of the trip. As some may not know what the Band of Hope is, I will make an explanation. It is made up mostly of children, though quite a number come under the head of young ladies and gentlemen; their object is to permanently establish the glorious principles of Temperance, by so training the child in its ways that when he grows to manhood he may not depart therefrom, and also by aiding its establishment, as far as possible, throughout the country.

The idea of Bands of Hope was brought here by the President, from England, where they flourish as Green Bay trees planted by the water side, and under his supervision this band has prospered beyond expectation, as may be seen from the fact that when first started last winter it numbered but 20 members, and now upwards of 300 names are on the roll. As the Band of Hope hopes that besides making this trip a source of enjoyment, it will be a source of profit, to enable them to prosecute their object, they have issued invitations to all the city Sunday Schools to join in with them, and I think as the price is but small, it is a first rate chance for them, I hope the Superintendents of the Schools will give this matter due consideration, remembering that their patronage will greatly help this good cause.

There are also hundreds of our citizens, who, though they may not be able to find time enough to go themselves, would not miss the price of the ticket from their pocket, and in return would have the satisfaction of knowing they had helped along the cause that lends most to the elevation of our nation, if not in this generation, in the one that is now growing up, and of helping us to battle against the devil's strongest agency. I hope the citizens will remember this when they are asked to purchase a ticket, and not turn the children away empty handed. Tickets for the trip there and back 25 cents; children's tickets 10 cents, which can be had of JOHN BROUGHTON, President; GEORGE TRACY, Vice President; JOHN PLANKINTON, Treasurer; T. B. KEMP Secretary, and from all members of the band. A. MEMBER.

AMERICAN EXPRESS COMPANY.—We were called upon one day last week by James Holton, Esq., of Milwaukee, now connected with the American Express Company. Mr. H was formerly the President of Holton's Dispatch, and he is favorably known to the citizens of this portion of the West. His particular department in the AMERICAN is the Purchasing Agency, a new feature in its business. Persons wanting goods of any kind at Milwaukee, make out their bills, pass their money to the Purchasing Agency, the money goes forward, the goods are returned by Express and no charge is made for transacting the business; if, however, the goods are shipped by Freight, or other than Express line, a commission of two to five per cent. is charged by the Purchasing Agent. On small amounts this will be found a great convenience to the public, and we know there lives no man who will exert himself more to oblige, than the chief of that department, James Holton.—McGregor (Iowa) Times.

Mr. HOLTON is doing a very large business in the above Agency. We can recommend him to all the business men throughout the West, as eminently trustworthy and as enterprising as safe.

THE PIC-NIC of the First Presbyterian Church and Sabbath School, will come off to-morrow (Tuesday), on the grounds occupied last week by the Camp Meeting, near the Watertown Junction. The attendance of all the members of the Congregation of the Church at this "sociable," is earnestly requested, and there will be plenty of room for any others who would be pleased to go,—and they will be warmly welcomed.

Cars will leave the Mississippi Depot at 10:45 A. M. The Sabbath School will leave the Church at 10 o'clock. Tickets for the excursion 25 cents, to be had of any of the Sabbath School teachers.

The refreshments will be furnished as usual—by the famalles of the church—who are desired to send them to the Rector's Room by nine o'clock, Tuesday morning for conveyance to the cars.

MR. GOODRICH of the firm of GOODRICH & JOHNSON, recently went east to find the best kind of cooking stove in market. He has now returned after a lengthy tour thro' all the foundries and sale rooms of New England, bringing with him what he considers the best article yet made. He also brings a very large stock of household goods, plated ware, &c.

THE INHABITANTS of the Third Ward justly complain of the drinking water. Some of the wells in that section are not deep enough; they merely descend into the ancient swamp, and the Third Warders drink what remains of the marsh.

THE News of Saturday gave the details of a very interesting but unfortunately extremely disgusting story about BOOTH. Why the Wisconsin did not copy it we can't for the life of us see.

PERSONAL.—It affords us much pleasure to notice the excellent and increasing business that W. M. Sinclair of this city, is doing in the grocery trade. We like to see an honest man appreciated, and Mr. Sinclair is truly entitled to the confidence all classes of business men repose in him. The large trade from orders, which he now has, shows what honesty and integrity will accomplish. Mr. S., or his popular salesman, Mr. Dickinson, attend personally to filling all orders, and country dealers may be assured that any business entrusted to these men will be done as it should be.—Wisconsin.

We take pleasure in endorsing the above as the truth, the whole truth, &c.

The New York Auction.

The public sale of the BELL-EVERETT party to CAGGER, RICHMOND & Company, by BROOKS, HUNT & DUER, the great political Peter Funks of the day, has proved to be a regular mock auction. The articles struck off amounted to nothing but stuffed watches, or the poorest kind of pinchbeck jewelry.—If there was anything genuine offered, the auctioneers can't deliver it. It is only the bogus Americans—your regular trading politicians, that would consent to be delivered. Everybody has been badly cheated. The Americans claim that ten of the names on the electoral ticket are for BELL and EVERETT. The Douglasites, on the other hand, claim that the whole thirty-three are for DOUGLAS. One of the thirty-three, a German, has publicly declared, through his paper, the New York Zeitung, the bargain to be, as he understood it, that they should all go for DOUGLAS. Gov. HUNT, one of the auctioneers, says that ten of them were to be, and are Know-Nothings. The chance now is, that the whole bargain will be declared null and void, and that it will react upon the contracting parties with terrible effect.—Such base prostitution will never be sanctioned by the people of any party.

"EDITORIAL CONVENTIONS in all States but Wisconsin are very beneficial."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Editors, educated in the profession, never slur it. It is those only—the sons of wealth, or off-prings of thread-bare aristocracy—made editors of, because their family pride would not permit of their being mechanics, or because they were too brainless to gain a livelihood in the learned professions, that affect superiority over, and claim to be at the head of, the editorial profession in Wisconsin. They are members of the profession, not because they have a taste for it, but because it gives them distinction and a living—they hate the working editor, and can't bear to meet with an association in which is seen the pale face of the journeyman printer. Those who advised, and have so far sustained the Editorial Association of Wisconsin, are men who have come to their present positions from the case—not far from West Point—and they are men who can and will make it successful, and useful. They have as yet received only neglect from the editor of the Sentinel, and having outlived it, the Association will be found quite indifferent to his slurs. We hope the time will come when the Press of the State will be in the hands of printer editors, men who will respect the profession.—Madison Patriot.

The above beautiful effusion is hardly worth comment, were it not that it expresses a popular, but erroneous idea, that "Printers are the best editors." We beg leave to state to the "pale-faced journeyman" that a printer is no more capacitated to be an editor by his trade, than is a drug clerk to be a physician—however unpleasant the idea may seem to the rank and file of jours in general.

Editing and printing are as distinct and independent as writing a book and reading it, and it no more follows as a law that the compositor, by virtue of industrious type-sticking, will ever attain to the intellectual position necessary to become an editor, than it follows as a sequence, that the perseveringreader of books, will thereby ultimately arrive at the power of writing them.

If printers have, as a general thing, made the best editors, (a general rule we will not concede by any means,) it is because they were intelligent and ambitious, and acquired knowledge upon a natural foundation of aptitude and talent, not from any inherent virtue in the surroundings of a compositor's room. And every person, whether a tailor or a "graduate," may do the same.

The probability is that in more favorable positions they would have arrived there sooner.

It is talent alone that makes the editor and whether he be a shoemaker or a blacksmith is of very little consequence in the consideration of his power and influence.

The profession in Wisconsin occupies undoubtedly a prond position. The majority of the Editors are men who have struggled manfully through misfortunes, and hewn their own way in the most practical manner, and be they jours or professors is of no consequence, so that they are upright, outspoken defenders of great principles in moral and political life. In the possession of such men Wisconsin is peculiarly happy.

But there are those who may with justice be called bastards in the fraternity who have not the honesty of the journeyman—nor the courtesy of the "graduate"—mongrel adepts, who slip in between the two coalescing divisions and mouth forever a senseless repetition of "caste," "caste."

It is such men who render Editorial Conventions of little use. They protrude their personalities upon the occasion; their vituperation is constitutional and they bring it with them. They subsidize business to buncombe, sociality to convivial riot. Their enmities and malignities are loud with natural vehemence. They impede the desire of all, and then go home and accuse all of negligence, or worse, willfully assert that the diversion was a success. Such was one Editorial Convention. The last was a failure, inasmuch as the press of the State was not properly represented. It was a success, inasmuch as the Editor of the Patriot stayed at home.

We hope the time will never come when the Press of this State "will be in the hands of Printer Editors." We know of no reason why printers should respect the literary profession more than lawyers or doctors. Give us men of sterling ability, be they printers or plough boys; men who have not only felt the shock of life but have learned in the struggle to regard as a brother every man, who acts honestly and manfully, and have sense to draw the flimsy lines of caste through the members of a fraternity where all stand on equal ground of advancement, with equal prospect of success.

Foreign Items.

KOSSUTH'S prolonged stay in Paris has not been without meaning. The certain grant of a liberal constitution and separate government to Hungary has been the talk of the Bourse recently. A deeply laid and most extensive conspiracy, beginning in the old palace of Buda, has just been discovered and was to have burst forth on the occasion of St. Stephen's Hungarian celebration, towards the end of August. The Emperor of Austria, acting under the advice of the Regent of Prussia, has made known his intention of according Hungarian independence on the 18th, his natal day. This wise conduct will not only save fire, bullet, rope and sword, but Hungary itself (for a little while longer) to the HAPSBURGS.

WHAT WITH METEORS, thunder storms, eclipses, and other celestial phenomena, this season bids fair to be one of the most remarkable on record. In Europe the oddities of the season have also been remarked. The Currier de Limoges states that, in the midst of a spell of unusual heat, the people of Bourges were surprised with a sudden change in the weather, and the appearance of a sharp frost; and a letter to the London Times, written last month, describes the fields near Scarborough as covered with snow. The appearance in England of snow on the verge of harvest, is what the oldest inhabitant will pronounce unprecedented.

LORD CLYDE, who has just returned to England from his most successful career as the commander of the British armies in India, is received with a cordial welcome from all classes of the people. The Examiner says:

"Here at least is one English General who has not been rewarded beyond his deserts, though in station he cannot be advanced higher, and he returns with a fortune proportioned to his rank. To the youth of the country, in every walk of life, as well as in the career of Lord Clyde's adoption, we could not possibly point out a nobler or more encouraging example; a man self-raised, self-advanced, and self distinguished, who has attained the summit of public distinction, not with the help of fortune's wings, or even any flight of what is commonly called genius, but by the arduous path hewed out by his own hands, by the mastery of his profession, by industry, perseverance, fidelity to duty, and the wise use of the times and opportunities that come to all, but which only the few grapple by the forelock."

Prussia is unwilling to admit Spain as a first class power. In reply to the French proposition a response has been made, the particulars of which are summed up by the Cologne Gazette:

"Prussia acknowledges the noble qualities of the Spanish nation, and appreciates the progress Spain has made within the last year in the consolidation of her political organization and the developement of her resources But she cannot approve at once, like Mr. Rechberg, the propositions of France.

Tha Vienna Cabinet hopes and not without reason, to find in Spain an ally to defend the possessions of the Holy See, menaced at present by revolution. Such a consideration may balance, in the eye of Austria, the fact that Spain would in all other questions most probably side with France. This Prussia must, above all, guard against. Besides Prussia cannot desire the admittance of another Catholic Power to the European council of nations, without the addition of a Protestant Power. Prussia can therefore only consent to the admittance of Spain on condition that Sweden be likewise admitted.—This reserve is only the result of a convert appreciation of Prussian interests. As regards the reservation in the Austrian notes alluding, if not expressly, at least in a very intelligible manner, to the admission of Sardinia, Prussia has no motive whatever to associate herself with it. Whenever the young Italian Power is strong enough to tar herself from the always predominating influence of France, Prussia will have no motive to exclude her from the deliberations of the Great Powers."

OXYGEN AS AN ANTIDOTE TO CHLOROFORM, has been employed by Mr. OZANAM, his experiments having been made upon animals so much under the influence of chloroform that respiration had become very feeble, the beating of the heart almost imperceptible, and death imminent. When they were submitted to the action of oxygen, they speedily recovered. He therefore strongly recommends that a sufficient quantity of oxygen should be placed at the disposal of the surgeon, whenever he employs chloroform or other anesthetics.

BARABOO FEMALE SEMINARY.—The next term of the Female Seminary will commence on Wednesday, Sept. 5th, Miss MORTIMER continuing her labors as Principal. We doubt whether another such an institution of the kind exists in the State, where young ladies may be instructed to equal advantage; and in proof of its wide reputation, we may mention that the catalogue just printed exhibits names of students from nearly all parts of the State, and, indeed, from other States, also.

THE DOUGLAS ratification meeting at Eau Claire one day last week was a total failure. So says the Free Press of that place. The whole number in attendance from two counties were about 100, and many of these Republicans. We find in the same paper the proceedings of the BRECKINRIDGE club, which shows that even in that section of the state the majority support BRECKINRIDGE.

THE MONTREAL SUPPER ROOM.—The Montreal Commercial Advertiser gives us an idea of what the "supper room" at the approaching ball in honor of the Prince will be like. The description is somewhat after the style of that which the lying Melnotte gave Pauline: "Fountains will throw up Eau de Cologne and other choice perfumes during the ball; glass and other pipes will convey tea, coffee, claret cup, lemonade and champagne to every part of the supper room, and even beyond, so as to economize labor as much as possible. The supper itself will be placed on a terraced table, the different viands rising tier above tier, like a Russian battery, or a staircase; and the waiters stationed behind will hand what is called for between the shelves. All that the world can supply in the way of luxury, will crowd this department, and all that art can do to cast a halo of poetry over the prosaic employment of eating and drinking will be done."

DEATH AT A PRAYER MEETING.—At the prayer meeting in Trinity Chapel, at about nine o'clock this morning, our well known and much respected fellow-citizen, Mr. Benjamin Howard, addressed the meeting upon the happiness inspired by religion. He was proceeding to give some account of the conversion of a lawyer, when he hesitated and sat down. His head drooped Upon going to him it was apparent that he had passed from the present happiness, which he had so fervently commended, to the unclouded joy of the life which knows no end. Mr. Howard was the father-in-law of the Rt. Rev. Bishop Clark, of Rhode Island, and the Rev. George D. Wildes, rector of the new Episcopal Church in Salem.—Boston Journal, Aug. 20.

MORE TROUBLE WITH THE INDIANS—TWO INDIAN BATTLES—TWENTY-TWO INDIANS KILLED.—The Pony Express, which left San Francisco on the evening of the 8th, arrived at St Joseph on the 19th, two days behind time. By the following note to the agent, at St. Joseph, Mr. Frank Guckert, from the Pony agent at Salt Lake, it will be seen that two more Indian fights have occurred:

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 14.

This Express was detained by an Indian fight at Egan's Canon, between Lieutenant Perkin's command and the Bannocks. Seventeen Indians were killed and three soldiers badly wounded. A fight also occurred at Shell Creek between the mail employees and the Pah Utah Indians, in which five Indians were killed. A. R. MILLER.

TELEGRAPH.—We learn that the people of Ripon are agitating the subject of the extention of the telegraph line to that point.—Our business men, too, we are glad to learn, begin to manifest a new interest in the enterprise, and if the proper exertion was now made, we could doubtless have the benefit of this indispensable auxiliary to the civilization of the age. We learn that M. Ward, the receiver of the M. & H. R. R., will do all in his power to aid the enterprise. We hope to see the line put in working order immediately.—Berlin Courant.

A MISSISSIPPI paper says that "Mississippi pledges her word not to submit to the rule of a Black Republican President." We wonder if her "word" is as good as her bonds.—Louisville Journal.

THE ANNUAL CONFERENCE of the M. E. Church of Western Wisconsin will be held at Baraboo, commencing Wednesday, September 12th.

The Royal Progress.

From our Special Correspondent.

QUEBEC, Aug. 20th, 1860.

The Prince has at last reached the Capital of Canada. H. B. M. ship Hero, 91 guns, the Ariadne, 26 guns, and Flying Fish, with six, being the squadron of the Prince of Wales, appeared off Quebec on Saturday the 18th instant, at two o'clock in the afternoon. They had been preceeded by the flag-ship of the Admiral, Sir ALEXANDER MILNE—the colossal Nile, carrying 91 guns and 894 men, and the Valorus, a 16 gun paddle wheel vessel. The Prince was honored by a royal salute from the fortifications of Quebec, and from the Admiral's fleet, on which the yards were manned, presenting a most imposing appearance. At four o'clock precisely, the Hero having anchored off the landing, the Prince was rowed ashore in a white twelve-oared life boat, the royal standard being lowered from the mast head of the Hero as he left her side.

A vast concourse of people had assembled on the landing, and the arrangements for the reception were elaborately ceremonious.

On the Champlain Market wharf, and immediately opposite the fine new market building there, a grand stand had been erected, capable of accommodating over a thousand people. This was filled, chiefly by ladies. In front of this, and immediately opposite the landing stairs, from which a crimson carpet led to it, was a pavilion built, under which perhaps fifty people could conveniently stand. Its floor was slightly raised its pillars draped with flags; its roof composed of green spruce boughs and surmounted with various colored gonfalons and the royal standard. This was the central point of the whole display. To this pavilion, just before the landing of the Prince, came first the Mayor of Quebec, attired in silken robes, leading his council, in full evening dress, and attended by his clerk and other civic officers. Then came the Cabinet Ministers of Canada, in their new uniform, with swords, black cocked hats, black coats and trowsers, set off with heavy gold lace collars, cuffs, stripes, and other trimmings.

Next came the Anglican Bishop, MOUNTAIN, of Quebec, with his chaplain, secretary, and some of his other clergy in their gowns and hoods. Then the Roman Catholic hierarchy appeared, in their robes.—They were all dressed in episcopal purple, soutanes and Roman cloaks, and wore heavy gold crucifixes and other symbols of their position. And then came the superiors of the seminaries of Montreal and Quebec and several of their clergy. Then the Governor General, Sir EDMUND HEAD, drove down in his carriage, with servants in full livery and a brilliant staff. Next came the Adjutant General DE SALABERRY, General WILLIAMS, Commander of the Forces, the Earl of Mulgrave, Lieut. Governor of Nova Scotia, each with several officers about them. Last almost of all, came Lord LYONS, British Ambassador at Washington, in the same costume as the Canadian Ministers, and two of his Secretaries, somewhat similarly dressed. A number of members of Parliament, and some private citizens, as well as members of the Press, completed the list.

As the barge containing the royal boy neared the landing, the officers of the city went down to meet their visitor, who lightly stepped ashore under renewed salutes from the ships and the fortresses, the ringing of all the bells of the city and vociferous cheering from all the crowd. Conducted beneath the reception tent, the Prince listened to the address of Quebec, read to him by the Mayor, first in French and then in English. The Prince was accompanied by his entire suite the Duke of New Castle, Earl of St. Germans, Gen. BRUCE, &c., &c. The address was as follows:

ADDRESS.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS:

The Mayor, Councillors and Citizens of Quebec, are happy on being the first among the Canadian subjects of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen to present their respectful homage to your Royal Highness. They will long continue to regard, as a memorable epoch, the day on which they have been permitted to receive, within the walls of the city, this visit from the eldest son of their beloved Sovereign, the Heir apparent of the British Crown.

When we became aware that Her Majesty, finding it inconvenient or impracticable to proceed to segreat a distance from the central seat of Government, had deigned to testify the regard which Her Majesty entertains toward Her Canadian subjects, by sending our future sovereign in her stead—we felt gratified and proud in receiving such a mark of distinction from one, whose public and private virtues command the admiration of the whole world. We felt assured that that Our Most Gracious Queen was desirous to show by this act of condescension, that she knows how to appreciate and honor in a special manner the most important of Her Colonial possessions.

In this Province, Your Royal Highness will find a free people, faithful and loyal, attached to their sovereign and to their country. In this the most ancient city of Canada, Your Royal Highness will be in the midst of a population, devoted to your interests, testifying by the heartiness of their acclamation and good wishes, that, though they derive their origin from various races, and may differ in language and in religious denomination, yet they have but one voice and one heart in expressing loyalty to their Sovereign, and in welcoming him who represents Her on this occasion, and who is one day destined, according to the natural order of events, to become Her successor.

The people of Quebec rejoice in beholding Your Royal Highness in the midst of them; they are happy because they have the opportunity of expressing, in a direct manner, their respect and attachment; happy because, he who will hereafter, in all human probability, wear the Crown of this great Empire, will be enabled, during his brief sojourn in Canada, to judge himself of the loyalty of the whole Canadian people in general, and citizens of Quebec in particular. Your Royal Highness will also enjoy the opportunity of forming an adequate opinion of the extent of the country, its productions, its resources, its progress, and the great future reserved for it; and will be enabled to perceive that Canada with a population of three millions of inhabitants, though only an appendade of the United Kingdom, possesses institutions as free, and a territory three times as extensive.

In conclusion, we entreat Your Royal Highness favorably to accept, for Our Most Gracious Sovereign and Yourself, along with our loyal and respectful homage the assurance of our sincere attachment; while we most heartily wish that this visit to Canada may prove as gratifying and agreeable to yourself, as it is to the citizens of Quebec.

[Signed] HECTOR L. LANGEVIN,
Mayor.

To this address the Prince read a brief and common place reply.

The Prince then amid loud huzzas entered the carriage of the Governor General, and, under an escort of cavalry, accompanied by MACCASTLE and BRUCE in the same carriage, and the rest in others following, proceeded up through the city, where triumphal arches without number decorated the streets, to the residence of the Governor General.

In the evening a general illumination took place.

The quantity of transparencies that were put up was really extraordinary; there were scores of Queens, Prince Consorts by the dozen, and of Princes of Wales no end. Then, there were crowns, and stars, and V. R.'s and V. A.'s without number. In the gas jet line, too the preparations had been extensive, and the display correspondingly effective. Japanese lanterns were numerous but not special favorites—wax candles in the window panes being preferred. Then the mottoes which were brought out on the windows were various; the Prince was bid welcome a thousand times, and he was often-er called Prince de Galles than designated by his English title. The Public Offices were perhaps the most brilliantly lit up of any.

The churches were also illuminated. The Cathedral (Catholic), presenting the best display, out of many.

Yesterday the Prince attended church at the English Cathedral. The sermon which was preached, alluded very slightly to his presence. After service he returned to Sir EDWARD HEAD'S.

The personal appearance of his Royal Highness is that of a quite well-bred boy, of mild disposition, a little phlegmatic. The prints in the shop windows, after WINTER-HALLER'S picture, are correct likenesses. The Quebec Chronicle of this morning says:

"The Royal visitor looks younger than his age would indicate. His appearance hardly promises to be commanding; but so pleasing is his countenance, so unassuming is his bearing, that it is no stretch of loyalty and no attempted compliment to predicate upon the impression he has made on those who have met him, his future successes when he comes to take his place as sovereign of the Empire."

The weather has been most unpropitious. Although it did not rain during the precise time of the landing, it did in the morning and again last night, and again to-day. The evergreen trimmings are draggled with mud; blown over by the wind and sadly soiled; the transparencies have in part been taken down; and those who on Friday were all life and on tiptoe of expectation look as if they trod

"A banquet hall deserted
Whose lights are fled,
Whose garlands dead,
And all but them departed."

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

STURGEON BAY, Aug. 17, 1860.

MR. EDITOR:—Perhaps some of your readers would be interested in the perusal of a few notes taken in this county. This county is improving rapidly in agricultural interests as well as population—the population will reach 7,500 industrious hardy pioneers of the first quality. The soil is unsurpassed; being a strong lime loom soil, it is suitable for all kinds of Wisconsin grains. It is estimated that there will be raised the present season 30,000 bushels of wheat, as well as corn, oats, rye and barley in abundance for home consumption.

Sturgeon Bay is one of the loveliest sheets of water in the west; being an arm of Green Bay, stretching inland in a direction about south-east, a distance of eight miles, with a depth of not less than twenty feet the entire length; it is about three miles wide at the entrance and drawing to an easy oblique end. The Legislature passed a bill last winter organizing this county for judicial purposes. The county seat is located at this place.—County buildings will soon be erected, and county officers will be elected this fall to carry into effect the provisions of the bill—This is a fine location for all kinds of mechanics; among which most needed are blacksmiths, shoemakers, marbinists, cabinet makers, &c. The head of Sturgeon Bay is one and a half miles from Lake Michigan, with an elevation of only twenty feet easy grade, and a certainty of there being a canal built, which will make this Bay the best harbor on Lake Michigan, and save a distance of 150 miles in going and returning from Green Bay. Stone and timber are convenient to the proposed canal for the building of locks and piers.

Yours truly, A TRAVELLER.

Wool Growing in Dane Co.—Letter from a Farmer.

SUN PRAIRIE, Aug. 22d, 1860.

Messrs. EDITORS STATE JOURNAL:

SIRS:—I notice in your paper a challenge to Dane County, from the Janesville Gazette, by one John Stockton, to shear as large a piece of wool as his, which weighed 11 14-16ths lbs. Thinking he might feel too well if no notice was taken of it, I thought best to reply. On the first day of June, 1860, I sheared from a yearling buck, whose carcass weighed 68 lbs., 12 lbs. 6 oz. of beautiful wool. Mr. Justus Smith, of this place, also sheared from a yearling buck, 12 lbs., and Mr. Morris Flint, of Bristol, from a yearling buck, 15 lbs. The proof is at hand if wanted. Let those sheep be at the State Fair and let us hear from Rock Co again.

Yours Respectfully,
C. A. LEWIS.

AN INFAMOUS HOAX.—Last Wednesday a bottle was picked up near Cape Henlopen, containing a slip of paper, on which the following words were written in pencil, without date:

"The steamer Pacific; the walking beam fell and stove a hole in her bottom; we are sinking. T. (or F.) B. Davies."

As no such name appears on the list of passengers who lost their lives in that unfortunate vessel, and her engines were horizontal, so that she would have no walking beam, the affair is believed to be a hoax perpetrated by some heartless scoundrel.

MAN KILLED.—Mr. Franz Krackenberger, farmer, of the town of Rhine, in this county, was killed in a threshing machine on the 15th inst. He was oiling the machine, and had a loose working frock coat on, which caught in some of the wheels and drew him in; and, of course, before the machine could be stopped, he was mangled in a horrible manner. Mr. K. was an old settler in the county, an industrious farmer, and a man who will be very much missed in his neighborhood and town. He leaves a wife and eight children.—Sheboygan Jour.

THE HEART'S NATIVE SONG.

The heart has a song, and a song all its own,
Which it never forgets from its birth,
For a depth of rich melody dwells in its tone,
The sweetest that gl.ddens the earth.
It thrills o'er the chords and it coils forth a strain
That the song of its friends above:
Then soft answering echoes breathe low the refrain,
For that song of the heart is of love,
Still love!

In the bosom of childhood it wakens delight
As it warbles unconsciously there,
And kindles the eye with so starry a light
That the mother delights her care.
When it nestles its head on the pillowing breast,
Like a tim d and weary-winged dove,
Then the tones of that song soothe its spirit to rest
As the me lody whispers of love,
Still love!

The boy, though away from his home he depart
While the tide of ambition swells strong
And his hopes be enshrined high, will still find in his heart
A strain of that native-born song—
As he pauses awhile in the hush of some hour
It its tones will come o'er him and prove,
That the smiles of the world cannot smother the power
Of the song which breathes ever of love,
Still love!

'Tis sweeter than music of harp or of lute
To the maiden whose bosom has known
Its throbbing grow wild for a moment, then mute,
As a loved one first called her his own.
And though, in her joy, she may seem to think that this song
Its some melody new to her bo vey,
'Tis the same pleasant tune that has blest her so long
With the tender tone music of love,
Still love!

And what, though the cheek hath been furrowed with tears,
And life hath seemed weary and long!
The throbbing of cares, and the burden of years
Cannot silence that native-born song.
Though the friends that were dear to the grave have been given,
That song lifts the spirit above,
And breathes of a blessed re-union in heaven,
Where the angels are singing of love,
Still love!

Mexican Affairs.

Just now there is flood of very indefinite correspondence, &c., from Mexico, Vera Cruz and from the capital. The only point of interest in these letters is that of an apparently serious difficulty between Spain and Mexico, of which the New Orleans Picayune gives what appears to be a fair statement, as follows:

The first and real serious difficulty is with the constitutional government at Vera Cruz This has its origin in sentiments as old as the revolution itself. The immediate point of dispute, however, is the Spanish schooner Maria Concepcion, which formed a part of the Marin expedition, from Havana, last winter, and was captured by the constitutional government about the time of the capture of the steamers General Miramon and Marquis de la Habana. The captured schooner, as will be remembered, was taken into port and dismantled, and her hull now lies near the castle. Her officers and crew, after a fair trial in the Vera Cruz courts, were set at liberty, but the civil suit which is to determine the disposal of the property is still pending. On the 31, however, and while the suit was so pending, the Spanish Commodore sent in a demand for the immediate restitution of the property.

This was at once in firm, but courteous terms declined, and all further correspondence on the subject cut off till the courts shall have rendered their decision. The response to this was a temporary demand for the restitution of the property within the space of forty-eight hours. This demand was made on the 9th, the day the Pocahontas sailed; but what would be the result, if not complied with, as it certainly would not be, none of our informants, direct from Vera Cruz, can say. It will not probably be immediately of a serious nature.

The second difficulty is with the Miramon or church party of Mexico. The ostensible grounds of it are the unsatisfied claims of Spanish citizens, which, it would seem, the new minister was particularly instructed to press with all his eloquence and power. These claims are of a two-fold character, and are, first, out of the reclamations for the violence some three years since committed at Chernavaca; and secondly, out of the long-standing unsettled accounts between the two countries.

In neither case, however, are they of a more pressing character than those of England, France or the United States, and hence it is very generally believed that they are only put forward as an excuse for Spanish intervention—intermeddling would, perhaps, be a better word. Mingled with this, perhaps, is a feeling of disappointment at the failure of the new minister's pet scheme for the so called pacification of the republic, not only by the peremptory refusal of the constitutional government to accede to his unequal terms, but by the coldness, not to say contempt, with which they were received by the opposing party.

These we understand to be the two-fold difficulties between Spain and Mexico, concerning which official despatches from both our own and the Spanish legions passed through our city yesterday en route to Washington and Madrid. How they will be received in the latter city we have no means of determining. It is believed, however, that they will furnish an excuse at least for the despatch of an imposing expedition to Vera Cruz the coming winter, there probably to co-operate with the expedition said to be fitting out at the capitol against the "Heroic City."

As to the despatches from the American legation, we understand they are of a character which will probably determine the department to strengthen, so soon as may be, our own naval force in the Mexican Gulf.

A SOUTHERN EDITOR'S OPINION OF PRAIRIE CHICKENS.—The editor of the New Orleans Delta, who was in Chicago with the Southern excursionists a short time ago, writes to his paper a most enthusiastic description of the provender which the party enjoyed in the Chicago hotels. In his view, Northern Illinois is a land which flows—if not with "milk and honey"—at least with butter and prairie chickens. Commencing with the supper which awaited the party from New Orleans on their arrival at the Richmond House, the editor discourseth as follows:

"A most refreshing supper was prepared for us. The leading features of this supper as it has been of all our repasts, was the prairie chicken. We arrived here in the nick of time to enjoy this most delicious bird. The limitation of the game law expired on the day before our arrival, and the hunters had just taken the field and brought in their first spoils. The young birds are in fine condition, fat, juicy, tender, and of the most captivating flavor. With the aid of the fine butter of this region, they make a dish which Lucullus would have expended a large fortune to procure, and Apicius would have died to enjoy.

Our people who are accustomed to buy, at fancy prices, the birds sent from Missouri late in the winter, when they are old, lean and dry, can form no idea of the deliciousness of the young bird, which can only be shot here in August and September, and cannot, therefore, be sent South. The number of these birds brought to market is amazing. One single party from this city bagged, on the first shooting day, two hundred birds.—At present they are sold at the rate of one dollar and a half a dozen, but in a few days will come down to a dollar a dozen—rather tantalizing rates to your market-goers who have to pay eighty cents a pair for two wretched apologies of chickens! The other supplies for the table are correspondingly cheap and good. The lamb is especially fat and fine flavored; the beef unsurpassed; and the milk, cream and butter are excellent.—Vegetables and fruit are rather scarce and inferior.

The fruit compares very poorly with the excellent specimens we procured in Mississippi and Tennessee. Indeed, it is acknowledged here that all their good fruit comes from the South; and one of the blessings of our railroad communication will be the facility of exchanging the fruit of our section for the peculiar products and luxuries of this. There is no lack of fish in the market but we cannot say much for their quality and flavor. On that subject, as our octogenarian friend Major P——, would say of the ladies, we are rather more dainty than we used to be. The lake fish may do very well for those who have never eaten sheephead; red-snapper, pompano, etc.; but for a New Orleans palate, they have little attractions. The Mississippi river and the great lakes are on a par in regard to the quality of the piscine inhabitants. It is quite an even contest between the catfish and buffaloes of the one and the white fish and trout of the other."

A VERY BAD SHOT.—Jimmey Massey, an English pugilist, keeps a saloon in the Bowery, New York. On Thursday evening, while standing at the door of his establishment, he picked up a quarrel with a policeman, who ordered him to go into his house. Jimmey did go in, and procured from his bar room a revolver. Two shots he aimed at the officer, but they only took effect on the sidewalk. On the third attempt the cap refused to explode. On the fourth he succeeded in sending a ball into his own thigh, inflicting a wound six inches long.—Exchange.

Now that last shot was a good one. No one has a right to complain of it.

Auction Sales.

City Auction Room and Land Office.

I AM NOW REMOVED TO THE STORE No. 168 East Water street. It is directly opposite to Mitchell's Bank. I think I have now one of the best stands for auction business in our city. All who have any business in my line will please give me a call. CALEB WALL.

The firm of OSBORN & WALL is dissolved. I will at present occupy the same office and real estate rooms, and attend to all business, such as obtaining loans, selling mortgages, and renting houses on commission. Office open at the first of Caleb Osborn's packet at current rates. In the course of two weeks I intend to make my annual report of the improvements which are now going on in the various Wards of our city. The impression with some is that no improvements are going on, which is a mistake. Improvements are going on, which is a mistake. Improvements which are now going ahead, and will continue to do so. Never was there such an opportunity for capitalists to invest money, as now offers. One thing I would recommend to all who have made contracts for buildings will please inform me, so that I can report the same. CALEB WALL,

City Land Agent.

MONETARY.

SATURDAY P. M., August 25, 1860.

The past week has witnessed a material reduction in the price of Eastern Exchange, the current selling rate being ¾ of 1 ₱ cent premium with a steady market during the past three or four days. The offerings of produce paper are as yet by no means equal to the resources of ours banks, and currency is therefore plenty enough for all legitimate business demands.

CHICAGO MONEY MARKET.—The Press & Tribune of this morning says:

The market for Eastern exchange to-day was very close, and rates were considerably firmer. On the street there was a very active inquiry for Eastern bills at ¾ ₱ cent premium, but sales were effected at ¾ ₱ cent. The banks were selling at ¾ ₱ cent, but only to their best customers.

There is a fair supply of currency; and we notice that several of our Canadian commission houses are in daily receipt of Canadian currency, which is being sent into the interior for circulation.

Wheat begins to come in pretty liberally, as compared with the receipts of 1859, but still the movement is doubtless checked to a large extent by the highness of Lake freights. The following is a comparative statement of the receipts for the past two weeks, showing the sources of supply, exclusive of deliveries by teams:

It will be seen that the Racine and Mississippi is the only road on which receipts have not increased, a very foolish discrimination on the part of the Company, in favor of Racine, (from all points on the road except where it is intersected by competing lines,) regarding the shipments from the Southwest to Milwaukee. The concession which the Company make to the superiority of Milwaukee as a grain market, by carrying grain from Freeport, Beloit, and Clinton, to this city at the same rate as to Racine, proves the expediency of giving all other points on the road the same privilege. In no other way can the road obtain its full share of the traffic of that section. The comparison above, showing the rapid increase of receipts from all other sources, led us into this brief digression from our usual subject.

The wheat market continued declining from the beginning of the week to Wednesday, No. 1 spring going down to 73c on that day. The advance in freights, consequent upon the unusually heavy receipts at Chicago from the South, and Southwest, was the main cause of the decline in prices. Since Wednesday, however, the tendency of the market has been upward under the influence of an improvement in foreign prices and at New York, and it has been still further accelerated during the last two days by a reduction in freights. To-day the market has been firm at an advance of fully 2c above the ruling quotations of yesterday, No. 1 spring bringing 88@89c in store; No. 2 86c; and milling samples 90@92c delivered. There was an active demand for all that was offered at these prices.

The trade in flour has been extremely limited owing to the unsettled state of the wheat market. The sales reported show a range of $4,35@4,50 for country Extra, and $5@5,25 for city do, the outside figures for very choice brands towards the close of the week.

Most descriptions of coarse grains have been lower with light receipts. New oats sold to-day at 30½c and 28c would probably be an outside price for the best old oats. Shelled corn has been selling at 42@43c. There has been a good demand for rye, both for shipment and local use at 45@46c. Some choice samples of barley have brought 60@62½c. We have no change of any consequence to note in other articles.

Freights are very unsettled, with a strong downward tendency. The highest figure paid was 16c for wheat to Buffalo in the beginning of the week. To-day vessels are offering freely at 12c to Buffalo and 13c to Oswego, but we have heard of no engagements. The rates on flour are 50c to Buffalo and 60c to Ogdensburgh by water; $1,00 by rail to New York, and $1,15 to Boston, but they are liable to change at any time. To-day 500 bbls flour were contracted to Port land at 95c via D. & M. Ry.

The foreign demand for breadstuffs continues Buoyant, as the statistics of exports from New York indicate, and the latest advices from England report rising markets, under the gloomy prospects of a poor harvest. At the sailing of the last steamer the weather had been unfavorable both for the growing and maturing of the grain crops, and it was then too late for any improvement to make up for the damage already done. But it won't do for us to think that because there is a short harvest in England, we are going to get famine prices for our immense crops. Southern Russia, it is said, has very abundant crops, and about the usual amount of surplus is expected from the Baltic, while the yield of wheat in France and Holland, from all accounts will be nearly, if not fully up to the average.

An American gentleman writing to a friend in this city under date of London, July 30th, alludes to this subject as follows:

I fear the Americans are counting too much in the expected demand from this country, (England,) for their wheat, &c. The crops are somewhat short, it is true, but Russia, and Eastern Europe, have full crops, and will supply the demand, unless our farmers are willing to accept European prices.

As we have frequently stated for what our opinion is worth, we think, notwithstanding the abundant crops throughout the entire West, there is a good prospect that farmers will realize a handsome reward for their toil, and that without the prevalence of exorbitant prices. But we are not amongst those who think that wheat will rule as low as 65c, or even 75c for any considerable time, if it should, through market fluctuations at any time get down as low as either of these figures.

The following statement exhibits the daily receipts of flour and grain by railroad for the past week, and also the exports of the same articles by lake for the week:

In reference to the market the Press & Tribune says:

The City of Baltimore, with Liverpool dates to the 15th, was telegraphed this morning, reporting an advance of 1d on wheat, and 6d on corn. Provisions dull.

The falling off in the receipts of wheat, along with the improvement by the City of Baltimore and easier freights, caused a buoyant market, under which transactions were large, and prices 2@6c higher on spring grades and 2@3c higher on winter. Upwards of 200,000 bus changed hands at 91@97c for No. 1 red; 88@90c for No. 2 red; 72@75c for rejected red; 78@82½c for No. 1 spring; 74½@80c for No. 2 spring; and 69@70c for rejected spring—the market closing firm, with a fair speculative and shipping inquiry at the outside quotations.

There was a good inquiry for Flour, but the stock was light and the market very firm, sales being limited at $4,25@4,35 for fair to good spring extras; and $5,62½ for Superfine White Winter. Corn was in active request and prices advanced 2@3½c, with sales of about 100,000 bus, at 38@37½c for No. 1; and 33@33½c for No. 2 in store. Oats were ½c higher, under light receipts and a fair inquiry—with sales at 19½@20c for No. 1 afloat, and 19c for No. 1 in store. Rye quiet. Timothy seed was in good supply, and the market easier and active at $3,18½@2,90.

There was more disposition on the part of vessel owners to make engagements to-day, and rates were lower—vessels being engaged at 15c for wheat to Oswego, and 8c to Port Barnia.
